“JAPAN STOP KILLING DOLPHINS”

Dolphins killed mostly to end up as a “delicacy” on a dinner plate.

On October 6th, Sea Shepherd Crewmembers witnessed the brutal slaughter of 60 Striped Dolphins in the village of TAJI, Japan.

Fishermen working in small boats used sounding rods below the water’s surface to interfere with the dolphin’s sonar and navigational abilities. Once located, the dolphins were penned overnight then smaller skiffs drove the pods onto the beach where they were slaughtered and bleed to death in the bay, staining the water bloody red.

Voice your outrage and send a message of opposition to the Japanese Government and Embassies worldwide.

*International Protest Day Against the Japanese Dolphin Slaughter
November 4th noon (12pm) at a Japanese Embassy or Consulate in your city*
